Reflections on our New Normal

The last year has been filled with challenges. SAINT has met those challenges by adjusting to the changes the pandemic caused in our world.

We changed our operations to follow all public health recommendations – masking for drivers and riders, moving riders to the back seat, following sanitation protocols – keeping everyone safe. When our clients could not take rides, we made welfare calls and delivered groceries and prescriptions.

We worked with community partners to get as many people as possible to vaccination appointments. We operated outside our normal hours and normal boundaries to provide these important rides.

Throughout the year our volunteers have been amazing. Although some decided not to drive during the pandemic, many stayed on the road to help our clients. As restrictions have loosened many drivers have returned and we have even recruited a dozen new volunteers during the pandemic.

Our schedulers adjusted to working at home while deploying a new, online scheduling system. Our volunteer coordinator and executive kept the office up and running.

We are very proud that our staff and volunteers rose to the challenges of this difficult year—continuing our mission to help seniors and people with disabilities maintain their independence and self-sufficiency by providing connections to the community through personalized, door-to-door transportation.

From our Riders

“Saint is literally a lifesaver for me. The name is perfect they truly are Saints.”

“I think SAINT is a really cool organization & it's a win-win situation! As a rider I get to meet such interesting people & wonderful conversations. The driver also meets interesting people. Plus you can be proud & happy to do volunteer service. I really think the name Saint is perfect. The drivers are truly saints in their service. Thank you for being!”

“Saint Transportation provided me with the ability to get to the grocery store and doctor's appointments without having to rely on friends and family all the time. That made me feel more independent. I really value and appreciate SAINT. You guys are amazing!!”
